Art Unit 3305

This case has been withdrawn from issue in order to lodge a new rejection.

The reissue oath or declaration filed with this application is defective because it fails to particularly specify how the errors relied upon arose or occurred, as required under 37 C.F.R. § 1.175(a) (5).

The six claims of the original patent are drawn to an apparatus for use in cannulation of blood vessels. Applicants, in their original declarations, have specified several insufficiencies in these claims, but have not shown how seventeen new claims rectify the "errors" in the original claims. While applicants are correct in their assessment of the basic rule requirements (as per remarks in Paper No. 13), further information should be supplied as set forth in the decisions In re Wittry, 180 USPQ 320 (requires that applicants assert a difference in scope between the original and any added claims) and In re Constant, 3 USPQ 2d 1479, (every departure from the original claims is an "error" which must be described in the declaration).

Claims 1-23 are rejected as being based upon a defective reissue declaration under 35 U.S.C. § 251. See 37 C.F.R. § 1.175.

S.N. 07/808,751

Art Unit 3305

Additionally, applicants have added claims to inventions not claimed in the original application, e.g., a kit and a method for guiding a needle. The declaration should at least establish reasons for consideration of this subject matter as part of the same invention since these claims if they had been presented during the original prosecution would have been restrictable as not for the same invention. Reasons why this subject matter was not earlier claimed and is otherwise not restrictable cannot be found in the original declarations. Applicants remedy may be in the form of a declaration from the previous attorney under 37 CFR 1,175(b).

Claims 14, 15 and 23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 251 as being not for the same invention as claimed in the patent.

Any inquiry concerning this communication should be directed to Examiner Francis J. Jaworski at telephone number (703) 308-3061.
